The Art of Murder

Welcome to "The Yate Gallery", London's most exclusive art gallery. Owned by Sir Reginald Artsworth a patron of the arts and collector of priceless artwork, his gallery showcases many of the world's greatest masterpieces.

You have been invited to his exclusive showcase and an unveiling party for a new piece added to his collection. The rich and powerful are the only ones permitted at this elegant affair. Champagne flows freely and conversations of the well-to-do show the best Society has to offer. However, the evening quickly turns sinister when a valuable painting goes missing, and Sir Reginald is found dead, shot by one of the ornate pistols in his collection.
